

SC questions Idgah claim by mosque side

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G
NEW DELHI, SEPTEMBER 26

THE SUPREME Court on Thursday questioned the mosque side in the Ayodhya case over its claim that a wall discovered during excavations by the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) at the disputed site was part of an Idgah, and wondered why it had not raised such a claim in its plaint.

“You said the Mosque was built on barren land. Now you say there was an Islamic structure below it,” Justice Ashok Bhushan, who is part of a five-judge Constitution bench hearing appeals against the September 30, 2010 verdict of the Allahabad High Court, told senior advocate Meenakshi Arora who sought to assail the ASI report.

The bench headed by Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi also comprises Justices S A Bobde, D Y Chandrachud and S Abdul Nazeer.

Justice Bhushan’s remarks

came when Arora said the wall, which dates back to the 12th century AD, was on the western side, away from habitation and had lime-surki plastering on the inside which pointed to its Islamic origins and that it may have been part of an Idgah.

Justice Bhushan said “but you did not say so in the plaint”, and asked “can you be allowed to develop your case on evidence?”

Arora replied that there was no contention about any pre-existing structure beneath the ground at the time it filed its plaint. She added that the contention of the Hindu side that the wall was part of the temple was only an inference and that being the case, an alternate inference that it may have been part of an Idgah was also possible.

Intervening, senior advocate C S Vaidyanathan, appearing for the deity Ramllalla, pointed out that the wall was older than the 12th century and that part of it was demolished in the 12th century and rebuilt some years later.

Justice Nazeer also questioned the claim that the wall was part of an Idgah and asked if it was so, where was the portion for the Imam to sit.

On Wednesday, the bench had told Arora that she should have taken steps before the trial court to summon the author of the ASI report and examine him if she had problems with its contents.

Arguing on this aspect on Thursday, senior advocate Rajeev Dhavan said there was no dispute on the authorship of the report or its authenticity. The only question was whether the summary was drawn up as required through consultation among team members, he said.

The bench told him that Arora could argue on whether the ASI team had answered the questions referred to it, whether it had exceeded its brief and on the contradictions if any.

On Wednesday, Arora had disputed the authorship of the summary chapter of the report, saying it had not been attributed to anyone.

But Dhavan on Thursday said, “Yesterday’s discussion on summary was absolutely futile. It only goes to authorship of the report and not its contents. Nobody can say it is not authentic,” adding, “authorship can’t be questioned”.

Arora contended that the pillar bases found by the ASI were in different layers of soil and this showed they were erected in different time periods. She asked how pillars made in different periods could support one massive structure as concluded by the ASI.

Joining issue, Justice Chandrachud said instead of drawing adverse conclusions, these questions should have been put to experts at the trial stage.

As Arora sought to question the basis of the ASI’s claims, the CJJ remarked, “Why ask us? You should have asked the expert who would have given the answer.”

Arora said there were contradictions in the report as the ASI’s experts had dated some of the recoveries to different periods. She also said the ASI had failed to keep a record of animal bones recovered from the site or send them for carbon dating. Animal remains would have been indicative of Islamic influences or animal sacrifices by others, she said.

Meanwhile, the bench told the parties that it will not give them any extra day beyond October 18 to conclude arguments. The CJJ said that “considering what you have given us, it will be miraculous if we can give judgment” within the remaining time.

The CJJ is set to retire on November 17.

Kerala govt begins drive to identify CRZ violations

Power, water to four apartments to be demolished snapped

SHAJU PHILIP
KOCHI, SEPTEMBER 26

FOLLOWING THE Supreme Court order to demolish four apartments constructed in violation of Coastal Regulation Zone (CRZ) norms at Maradu, the Kerala government has started a statewide exercise to look into all constructions which don’t comply with CRZ norms.

While ordering demolition of the apartments, the court had directed Kerala Coastal Zone Management Authority (KCZMA) to put on record how many such constructions existed and what course of action it proposed against such violators.

According to Additional Chief Secretary (local self-government) T K Jose, the exercise to identify CRZ violations is on. “We do not have clear data on CRZ violations across Kerala. We have to examine the entire coast and areas covered by backwaters.”

He said 800 CRZ violations are suspected in Maradu municipality. “An examination of 325 buildings has revealed that only eight buildings violated norms. These eight are besides the four complexes (which the Supreme Court has ordered to be demolished). Now, we have to examine 475 more constructions in Maradu municipality to ascertain if they violated CRZ norms. The exercise is being carried out by KCZMA,” he said.

Officials at KCZMA said the authority does not have statewide data on constructions which violated CRZ norms. “When the authority was under science and technology department, until 2017, an examination had revealed 65 violations by resorts and apartments across Kerala. This list was prepared to answer a question in Rajya Sabha. Then the officials looked only at constructions which faced complaints or landed in court cases for alleged violations. We are yet to have a full-fledged examination,” an official said.

After the authorities cut power supply to the Maradu flats

The delay in constituting the KCZMA board has also hampered identification of CRZ violations. The board’s term expired in June and the state government sent a proposal for the new board to the Union Ministry of Environment and Forest. “The state government has sent the proposal. But the Union Ministry has to issue the notification to the effect of forming the new board. Currently, officials are conducting only a preliminary examination,” a source said.

Meanwhile, with the Supreme Court set to review action taken to demolish the apartments, the state government has toughened its stand. On Thursday, power and water supply to the four complexes, which have 343 units, were snapped. The move is part of a four-month action plan to demolish the apartments.

As per the action plan, the government wants residents to vacate the flats between September 29 and October 3. The agency for the demolition would be identified before October 9 and the first phase is slated to begin on October 11.

Ernakulam district collector

S Suhas said the residents should cooperate during the process. “They should cooperate to shift out the children and the indisposed. There won’t be a situation in which flat residents are rendered homeless. Alternative arrangements for rehabilitating them would be made,” he said.

However, the residents are determined not to move out. With the power and water supplies cut, they switched to standby power systems and arranged water tankers.

“We are being treated like terrorists. We are pleading with the government and Supreme Court to be humane. We invested our hard-earned money in these apartments. We cannot suffer these flats being razed. Several aged, indisposed and children are living here. Many are taking treatment at nearby hospitals on a daily basis. Does anyone think about their fate?” asked Sajitha Pillai, one of the residents.

Another resident Arun Kumar said, “We are ready to die under the debris of this flats. The Supreme Court linked the issue to last year’s flood. But, nobody knows these flats had then offered shelter to the flood-affected.”

Student files bail plea, kin seek rape charge against Chinmayanand

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
LUCKNOW, SEPTEMBER 26

A DAY after the law student who accused former BJP minister Chinmayanand of rape and sexual harassment was arrested in a case of extortion filed by the BJP leader’s lawyers, the 23-year-old student moved a bail application in the sessions court on Thursday.

The student’s lawyer moved the plea after a lower court declared her anticipatory bail plea “infructuous” following her arrest by the SIT probing the sexual assault and the extortion threat case.

The sessions court will hear the bail plea on Monday. The same day it will hear the bail petition of Chinmayanand, who was arrested last week, said government counsel Anuj Kumar.

The woman’s family has again demanded the SIT to press rape charge against Chinmayanand. While the student had accused the former BJP MP of raping her, the SIT booked him under IPC sections 354 D (stalking), 342 (wrongful confinement), 506 (criminal intimidation) and 376 C, which is usually applied in cases where a person abuses his position to “induce or seduce” a woman under his charge to have “sexual intercourse not amounting to the offence of rape”.

“The SIT is trying to highlight only the extortion case so that our demand to lodge a fresh FIR with the rape charge does not get much importance... It is shameful that the SIT is helping the rape accused instead of the victim. We will fight the case despite all pressure from state government and its agencies,” said the student’s brother.

Meanwhile, a delegation of All India Democratic Women Association, led by CPM leaders Brinda Karat and Subhasini Ali, reached Shahjahanpur jail and met the student. Speaking to mediapersons, Karat said the student appeared “frightened and terrified”. “The accused (Chinmayanand) is a very powerful person and the victim belongs to an ordinary family. She has displayed immense courage by complaining.”

The delegation also submitted a memorandum to SIT chief Naveen Arora, demanding rape charge against Chinmayanand on the basis of student’s statement given to Delhi Police.

AIDWA members alleged that the government machinery was being used to “save Chinmayanand” and accused the SIT of harassing the victim and her family in an attempt to break their spirit. The police have distorted the investigation and are trying to shield Chinmayanand by not booking him for rape, the delegation of AIDWA said.

Research by scientific centres will help India become $5 tn economy: Kovind

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, SEPTEMBER 26

PRESIDENT RAM Nath Kovind on Thursday said scientific institutions in the country and their research is the key to help India meet its 2025 goal of achieving a $5 trillion economy.

Speaking at the 78th Foundation Day of the Council of Scientific & Industrial Research (CSIR), Kovind said, “We have set ourselves a goal of becoming a $5 trillion economy by 2025. We are committed to achieving sustainable development goals, we also wish to play our role in addressing global concerns such as climate change. To a great extent, our success in meeting these challenges would depend on our ability to find creative solutions based on scientific research.”

Noting that uncertainty and risks are inherent to scientific research and entrepreneurship, the President said, “I urge you to embrace that uncertainty and take that calculated risk. There lies the possibility of developing truly transformative technology that can help fulfill our goals as a nation, as humanity and as a planet.”

Kovind stressed upon the need for more girls and women to enter the scientific arena.

Akshardham Temple attack: Yasin Bhat granted bail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
AHMEDABAD, SEPTEMBER 26

A SPECIAL Prevention of Terrorism Act (POTA) court in Ahmedabad on Wednesday granted bail to Yasin Bhat, alleged to be the prime conspirator of the 2002 Akshardham Temple attack. Bhat was arrested by the Gujarat Anti-Terrorism Squad (ATS) on July 26 from Jammu & Kashmir.

Bhat’s lawyer had submitted before the court of special designated judge M K Dave that the accused was arrested at a belated stage and much after Supreme Court acquitted six accused in May 2014. The special POTA court acquitted two more accused after the apex court order.

Seeking relief on grounds of parity, Bhat’s lawyer I D Pathan submitted that co-accused Abdulrashid Sulemanbhai Ajmeri and Mohammad Farooq Mohammad Hanif Shaikh, both of who were belatedly arrested, were granted bail in December 2017 and in January this year by the special POTA court. Another ground cited was that following Bhat’s arrest, there has been no discovery or recovery of any incriminating material.

The public prosecutor conceded that the principal perpetrators of the offence were given a clean chit by the Supreme Court and did not oppose the submissions by Bhat’s counsel. Granting bail to Bhat, the court asked him not to leave Ahmedabad city without prior permission of the court.

Bhat was lodged at Sabarmati Central Jail on judicial custody since July 27. The 2002 FIR charged him under IPC sections related to conspiracy and murder, among others. He was also charged under the Arms Act, the Explosive Substances Act, the Prevention of Terrorism Act, 2002 and the Bombay Police Act.

Two armed terrorists attacked Akshardham Temple in Gandhinagar on September 24, 2002 and killed 33 people, including an NSG commando and two Gujarat police officers. The terrorists, identified as Ashraf Ali Mohammed Farooq and Murtaza Hafiz Yasin, were gunned down by NSG commandos.

GAGANYAAN MISSION ISRO chief: 12 astronauts to visit Russia for training

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
AHMEDABAD, SEPTEMBER 26

THE 12 Indian astronauts who are in the process of being selected for Gaganyaan — India’s manned mission to space — will be sent to Russia for training in about a month, K Sivan, chairman of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO), said during a visit to the Space Applications Centre (SAC) in Ahmedabad on Thursday.

“The process of selecting astronauts is going on. They will be going to Russia for training in about a month... We are planning to select 12 astronauts and they will go to Russia. The Russians will select four from this and then the selected four astronauts will undergo rigorous training for 15 months,” Sivan told mediapersons on sidelines of the 4th ISSE National Conference 2019 organised on SAC campus.

Dr Jitendra Singh, MoS for Atomic Energy and Space, was also present.

The ISRO chief said the first unmanned mission under Gaganyaan will be launched by December 2020. “The second unmanned mission we are planning by July 2021 so that we can have the manned mission by December 2021,” the ISRO chief said.

Asked if a woman astronaut is among those selected, Sivan said, “Till now, among those selected, there is no woman. But we want a woman to be there. Probably we will select one next time.”

REPORT CARD ON CHILD SURVIVAL

World is getting better... in India there are gaps: Bill Gates

ABANTIKA GHOSH
NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 26

VELLORE IN Tamil Nadu, with 100 per cent institutional deliveries and “98 of 100 children likely to see their fifth birthday”, and Badaun in UP with 58.1 per cent institutional births represent two extremes of the developing world.

This was cited by Microsoft co-founder and philanthropist Bill Gates — with data from National Family Health Survey 4 — as he presented the report card on child survival at the annual Goalkeepers event on Wednesday.

“(Statistics show) in 99 per cent the situation has improved, the world is getting better even in the toughest places for child survival... in India, which is the world’s biggest developing country, there are gaps. In Vellore, the education and child survival figures are the same as in a rich country with 98 of 100 children likely to see their fifth birthday and most of them likely to get a high school education. (On the other hand) is Badaun in Uttar Pradesh, where 10% children born do not live beyond their fifth birthday and many of them do not get an education past primary school. India is not on track to achieve SDGs but Vellore will achieve them 10 years in advance,” he said.

Goalkeepers is the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation’s campaign to accelerate progress towards the SDGs. By sharing stories and data behind Global Goals, the foundation hopes to inspire a new generation of leaders, who raise awareness of progress, hold leaders accountable and drive action to achieve the Global Goals.

On Tuesday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi received the Global Goalkeeper award for the Swachh Bharat Mission.

Ayodhya verdict by Nov 17 will be a miracle: SC

Dhananjay.Mahapatra
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Thursday said it cannot offer even a day beyond October 18 for Hindu and Muslim parties to conclude arguments in the Ayodhya land dispute case, and that it would still be a miracle if the court could pronounce verdict four weeks thereafter.

What the bench had in mind was November 17, the scheduled retirement date of CJI Ranjan Gogoi, as it re-drew the hearing schedule for the available 10 days and insisted that parties must conclude arguments by October 18 on the vexed 70-year-old litigation for ownership of the 2.77 acre disputed Ram Jammabhomi-Babri Masjid land in Ayodhya.

On Day 32 of the hearing, the bench comprising CJI Gogoi and Justices S A Bobde, D Y Chandrachud, Ashok Bhushan and S Abdul Nazeer said, "There cannot be a single extra day given beyond October 18 for conclusion of arguments by both sides. Even if it concludes on October 18, then too, it will be miraculous to pronounce a judgment in four weeks."

The bench was indicating the workload to the counsel — reading Allahabad HC's 2010 judgment and documents running into thousands of pages, appreciating written submissions by both sides also running into over thousand pages, burning the midnight oil to appreciate lengthy arguments in the light of evidence on record and then write the judgment.

On Thursday, senior advocate Rajeev Dhavan attempted to explain senior advocate Meenakshi Arora's analysis of the archaeological excavation report. On Wednesday, Arora had faced a barrage of questions from the bench when she cast doubts over the manner in which Archaeological Survey of India carried out excavation at the disputed site in 2003 on the HC's order and the methodology it employ-

SC BENCH ON AYODHYA VERDICT

ed to interpret excavated data.
The bench had on Wednesday asked her why Muslim parties did not cross-examine the ASI team of archaeologists before the HC and what use was her attempt to discredit the ASI report during hearing of appeals before the SC. Dhavan said, "No one is arguing that the report is not authentic. If we wasted the court's time on that aspect on Wednesday, we are sorry. But there is a big question mark on authenticity of the summary or conclusions drawn by the ASI. The court must consider it."

Arora resumed from where she left off on Wednesday and attempted to punch holes in the ASI report citing "absurd inferences" drawn by the ASI on periods of history to which layered construction of the "massive structure" discovered beneath the mosque belonged. She also doubted the ASI's inference that artefacts and figurines discovered were linked to Hindu religion.
"This shows that inference of massive Hindu structure beneath the disputed structure was a result of presumptions and conjectures of ASI," she said and asserted that the structure had no relation to the Ram Jammasthan temple.

She said the ASI's claim of examining 50 pillar bases to conclude that it was a Hindu structure completely ignored the evidence of a 50-metre-long wall on the western side, which could also indicate it to be an Idgah over which Babri Masjid was built.

Soon, '1 Nation 1 Tag' for seamless travel

Dipak.Dash@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: In a bid to end the use of multiple smart tags to travel on tolled roads and to pay entry tax in different cities, a 'One Nation One Tag' is set to be rolled out in the next couple of months.

Currently, FasTag, the RFID-based smart tag, can be used to pay toll on the national highways and a few state roads and it's mandatory for commercial vehicles to have a separate tag to enter Delhi, which is issued by the municipal corporation.

Sources said if more municipalities follow the Delhi model of issuing separate tags for paying entry tax, commercial vehicles with all India permits may end up having several tags on their windshields. TOI has learnt that there is already a discussion to bring both the municipal toll tag and the FasTag on one platform.

'SIT action a wrong signal for women'

Karat and Subhashini Ali, along with members of All India Democratic Women's Association, met the law student who has accused former Union minister Swami Chinmayanand of rape inside the district jail in Shahja-hanpur on Thursday. The girl was arrested for extortion by the special investigation team (SIT) on Wednesday.

Karat later said that the SIT is attempting to demoralise the victim and her family members.

Karat said, "BJP should only do politics and stop supporting rape accused in the state now. This is the second case after Unnao in UP where power has been abused by influential accused to threaten the survivor. SIT is attempting to demoralise the victim and her family members and sending wrong message to every woman seeking justice," Karat said.

12 bishops held over church row in Kerala

Piravom: More than 100 Jacobites, including a dozen bishops, were arrested on Thursday from the historic St Mary's Church at Piravom in Kerala's Er-nakulam district after police arrived to evict protesters who had been preventing the Orthodox faction from taking possession of the shrine.
The arrests temporarily ended a two-day stand-off between the rival factions of the Malankara Church at Piravom Veliyapally. Joseph Mar Gre-gorios, metropolitan trustee of the Jacobite Church, and other bishops were among those arrested.

In 2017, the Supreme Court had passed an order that gave the Orthodox faction control of 11,000 churches, but the group was unable to take over many of these shrines because of various reasons. TNN
